A Word About Laboratory Specialists

The name says it all ~ Laboratory Specialists.

For the past 25+ years all we have done is equip, supply and support clinical laboratories, and that is all we want to do.

We believe that by focusing on this one aspect of the Health Care industry – by specializing – we can better serve the needs of our clients.

It is our desire to be considered specialists in this area – people you can depend on for experienced advice and performance.

Being connected with a wide variety of instrument and supply manufacturers we are in a position to offer our clients the right instrument or aggregate of instruments that fit their individual requirements.

We carefully consider desired menu, work volumes, and available space to arrive at our recommendations.

And we do our best to make sure that each instrument will not only live up to our clients' expectations, but provide acceptable revenue as well. If the numbers don't look good – we'll tell you.

Our company philosophy is,
"It is our business to make your business as profitable as possible while preserving and advancing the integrity and quality of laboratory work performed."
Therefore we will keep a constant eye out for you, looking for the best economy and technology for your clinical lab.
